1. TITLE OF THE PRACTICE - Interact with experts in various fields
2. INITIATION THE PRACTICE - Teachers have a place of everlasting respect and esteem in the society. Teachers can guide students to succeed in life by recognizing their inclinations, interests and abilities. Teachers who set an example to the society by practicing moral values in their own lives are in a sense sculptors who shape the society. But for this, teachers also need to be trained from time to time.
3. OBJECTIVES -
 1. Communicating the experiences of experts in different fields to the students.
 2. Provide expert guidance to students in various fields.
 3. Enriching the student experience world.
4. PRACTICE - The college professors had organized an online program for the trainees to interact with various experts due to the prevalence of COVID-19. Online lectures were organized for the trainees on how to deal with the difficulties encountered in the society or in understanding the students while working as a teacher. The college provided the trainees with the opportunity to interact with experts on 'Entrepreneurial Teacher Dialogue' Reading Inspiration Day 'Let's read and create' and 'Teacher is a parent' through an online portal. The opportunity to interact with the person was made available through the online portal. These programs helped the trainees to understand the thoughts and experiences of the experts.
5. OBSTACLES FACED - Program online As such, the trainees were having difficulty in communicating with the experts and lack of time for communication.
6. RESOURCES: - Dedicated professors taught the trainees about the difficulties encountered while working as teachers.
